Notes

¹ If this Quote is executed and/or returned to Ansarada by the Customer after the Contract Start Date above, Ansarada may adjust the Contract Start Date, without increasing the Total Subscription Price, based on the date Ansarada activates the subscription and provided that the total subscription term does not change.

² Ansarada offers credit card or direct debit as payment options for the subscription. Upon Ansarada receiving the executed Quote, you will submit your payment details as per the payment frequency in this Quote, authorising Ansarada to charge you automatically thereafter for the duration of the subscription.

³ It's important you choose an adequate data plan for your needs. This is because if you go over the data allocated under your chosen plan you will be charged additional fees for the data overrun (additional data). The fees for additional data are available from the link below. You are unable mid contract to change to a new data plan.

Additional Data Fees

Important. Payments are charged in advance. Your subscription automatically renews on the same terms unless you have agreed something else with us prior to its renewal date.

Please note that a minimum billing amount applies for payments made by bank transfer. For further details on eligible payment options, please contact our support team.

Things to know

Three simple steps

We're voted the world's easiest-to-use data room*, used by the top advisors and companies in 180 countries. Quick start checklists and templates, drag and drop functionality and AI-powered smart sorting makes your life easier. And to get started, there are just three simple steps:

01

Now that you've got your quote, you can start preparing for your transaction in the data room straight away.

02

The data gauge will help you determine how much data you might need for the duration of your deal, and you can confirm the plan that you will need from inside your data room.

03

Once you are prepared and ready to go live, your chosen plan will kick in.

“What I like most about Ansarada is the easiness of their solution. Like the success of iPhones - it's a complicated tool but it's easy to use.”

“It’s the ease of use, the reliability, the support. Whether it’s opening a data room in one day, running the process, or archiving the room, it’s just been a thing of ease. That’s why dealmakers – my team – love using Ansarada.”

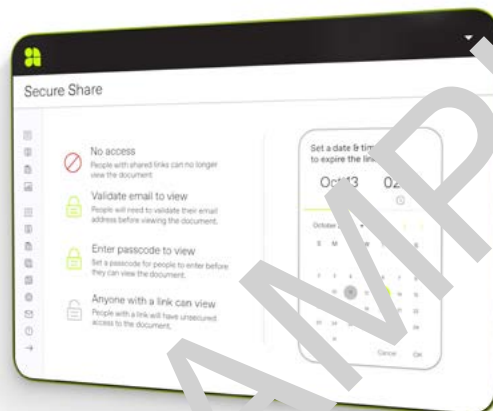

Protect reputations and outcomes with unmatched security controls

Choose where you want to store your data

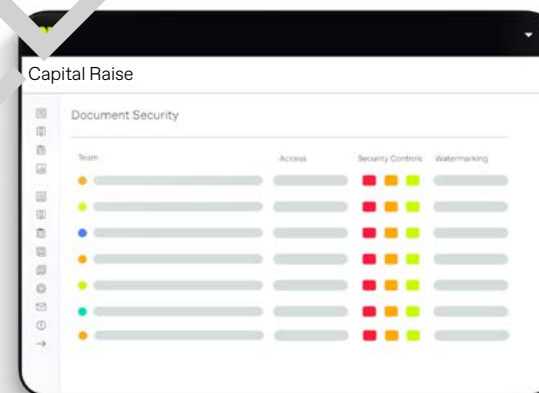

Trust your data is protected with localized storage. Stay compliant with the laws of your home base, while simultaneously benefiting from the expertise and reach of a global company.

For when you need more than just un-sharing

Share your most sensitive information confidently with the ability to remotely self-destruct documents at any point in the transaction. When you remove a bidder or guest from the transaction room, their rights programmatically expire, including all information saved outside of the room.

Security controls to match your needs

Safeguard against human error. The platform's security engine moves the complexity to the back end and leaves only the simplest controls at the front, for the most efficient and intuitive experience for even the most junior person on your team. They get all the support they need to avoid mistakes and ensure total compliance during your transaction.

“Ansarada is the best tool that you can use as an advisor. Also, from a client perspective, say you send a message to the client services team of Ansarada, they will answer your question in five minutes. It’s super user friendly, and that’s what you’re looking for in a data room.”

Insights and efficiency aren't just expected. They're engineered with AI in Ansarada.

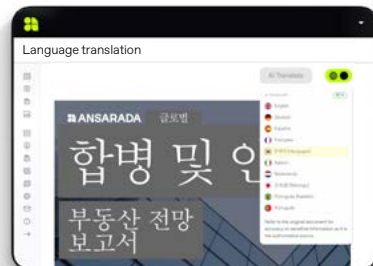

AI-Sort™

AI-Smart Sorting

Organise your data room in minutes — not hours or days. Forget manually dragging and dropping files. When triggered, Smart Sort automatically organises documents as they're uploaded, and sorts them based on pre-specified patterns.

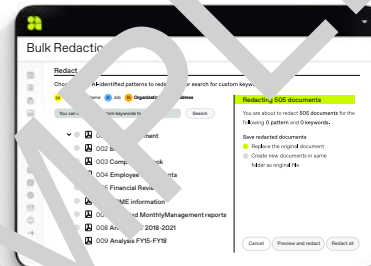

AI-Translate™

AI-Language Translation

AI-powered translation, purpose-built for cross-border M&A. Seamlessly translate deal-critical documents in seconds — directly within your data room. No downloads, no guesswork, no wasted time.

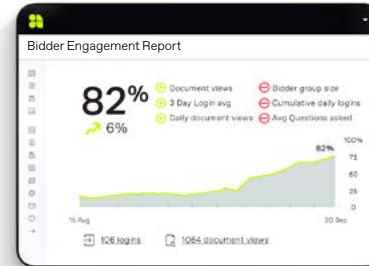

AI-Redact™

AI-Bulk Redaction

Redact over 500 documents simultaneously with automated AI-pattern recognition, and elect to apply over 30 custom terms in one go.

AI-Predict™

AI-Assisted Deal Prediction

Don't rely on gut feel — get the deal facts faster. Our AI, trained on thousands of M&A deals and millions of data points, is up to 97% accurate in predicting the winning bidder by day 7. Receive Bidder Engagement Reports to see who's engaged and where to focus.

“The AI Bidder Engagement Insights that I’ve seen in transaction processes I’ve been involved in has actually been very effective in predicting who the future successful party in the [bidding] process will be. It’s had an almost 100% hit rate.”

Drive decision making with speed and ease

Centralized task management

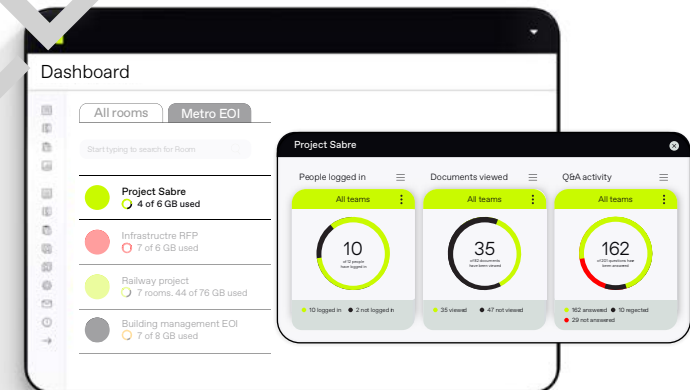

Continue working with the tools you know and love. Upload your documents straight into Workflow for a centralized, integrated task management space that sits within your data room for the entire transaction. Your team and your advisors have a single source of truth, giving you full visibility and confidence.

Get the best outcome in DD

Q&A during due diligence can be the most time consuming aspect to manage. Automate your Q&A workflow so that questions are diverted directly to the right team, without manual assignment. When you're trying to run your business and manage a critical juncture at the same time, better Q&A workflows speed up the process.

Dashboard insights

Stay on top of your deal team activity. Your Deal dash gives you valuable insights into how your transaction is progressing, with the ability to drill down further in your reports area. Stay on top of your Deal with the handy data gauge, allowing you to pick the best plan for you and your unique transaction.

“The way Ansarada is structured really creates order from what would otherwise be chaotic. There’s been a lot of data rooms – 90 in the last 2 years – so it’s really important to us to protect client data. We have a professional obligation to submit to privacy laws, so to have a secure platform which has cutting edge security, multi factor authentication, and can be relied upon to continue to evolve and meet threats that are out there, is critical to us”

“Ansarada is a technology platform we can trust. Information is readily available, so you can be prepared when the deal starts. You don’t have to worry, and you know you don’t have to worry. With the Ansarada Deals system, for me to be able to go in and see where 10 team members are on any transactions... for a CEO, it’s a lot easier to have an immediate glimpse of progress when you’re not using disparate systems.”
